Project description

Bullying is not just a rite of passage to adulthood, but a serious problem of violence against and among young people, spread in most European countries. The purpose of the project is to determine whether there are similarities between different countries relative to situations in which bullying occurs, profiles of victims and bullies.

A program (duration: 12 months):

- To build a shared model of social communication
- Direct with privilege to the world of schools (50 Schools/Country) and prisons (5 Prisons/Country)
- The scholastic and correctional population involved will be the protagonists of a TV and radio commercials, which will be disseminated (30 TV passages and 100 radio passages/Country)
- A national competition will award 20 graphic and photographic works on the subject of bullying with a traveling exhibition (in 20 cities/Country), the first of the 20 works will become the national Manifesto against bullying (posting 2000 copies/Country in 40 cities/Country)
- The organization of 4 training workshops/Country, which will be directed to the scholastic trainers with the aim to identify and disseminate a participatory multilingual "pocket spelling-book of anti-bullying"

- The preparation of a dedicated multilingual site and its continuous update - guaranteed by the contributions deriving from partners and from scholastic and correctional institutes involved
- The organization of a “national conference on bullying” will give the way to exchange good practices and “the operating instructions” of the handbook produced by the project for trainers and youth.
